Megan Bray

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Practice Areas

651

Biography

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Megan develops comprehensive estate plans designed to protect families and create long-term stability across generations. For families building wealth, her planning addresses incapacity protection, planning for minor children, and the efficient transfer of assets. For clients with more complex estates or closely held business interests, she also designs strategies to address estate and gift tax exposure, coordinate planning across diverse asset holdings, and establish governance and succession structures for family-owned businesses.

In addition, Megan maintains a significant focus on special needs and Medicaid planning. She advises families on integrating public benefits preservation with long-term financial security and coordinated care planning. Her work helps protect eligibility for programs such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid while providing supplemental resources that support stability, dignity, and quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

As a parent and as the sibling of a sister with special needs, Megan brings both professional expertise and personal insight to her practice. She understands the legal, financial, and emotional considerations families face when planning for the future. This perspective informs her practical, thoughtful approach to developing plans that protect loved ones, preserve family resources, and provide lasting peace of mind.

Education

Kansas State University (BS in Business Administration – Finance, 2001)

University of Kansas School of Law (JD, Tax Certificate, 2003)

Bar Admissions

Kansas,Missouri,Nebraska

Memberships: Johnson County Bar Association

Vasiliki (“Vashia”) Dadiotis

Vashia Dadiotis is a domestic relations attorney focusing her practice on family and probate law. She represents clients in divorce, parentage, child support, maintenance (alimony), and appellate matters, advocating for both mothers and fathers.

Practice Areas

651

Biography

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Megan develops comprehensive estate plans designed to protect families and create long-term stability across generations. For families building wealth, her planning addresses incapacity protection, planning for minor children, and the efficient transfer of assets. For clients with more complex estates or closely held business interests, she also designs strategies to address estate and gift tax exposure, coordinate planning across diverse asset holdings, and establish governance and succession structures for family-owned businesses.

In addition, Megan maintains a significant focus on special needs and Medicaid planning. She advises families on integrating public benefits preservation with long-term financial security and coordinated care planning. Her work helps protect eligibility for programs such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid while providing supplemental resources that support stability, dignity, and quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

As a parent and as the sibling of a sister with special needs, Megan brings both professional expertise and personal insight to her practice. She understands the legal, financial, and emotional considerations families face when planning for the future. This perspective informs her practical, thoughtful approach to developing plans that protect loved ones, preserve family resources, and provide lasting peace of mind.

Education

Kansas State University (BS in Business Administration – Finance, 2001)

University of Kansas School of Law (JD, Tax Certificate, 2003)

Bar Admissions

Kansas,Missouri,Nebraska

Memberships: Johnson County Bar Association

Debbie Moeller

Debbie is an experienced litigator who has represented corporations and individuals in civil actions for over 30 years. She has developed a pragmatic approach by successfully working with her clients to consider all aspects of high stakes litigation in order to obtain the best results.

She has handled numerous global mass tort and MDL matters and served as national counsel for several Fortune 500 companies. She has experience in toxic torts, commercial litigation, premises liability, construction law, personal injury, and products liability.

Practice Areas

651

Biography

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Megan develops comprehensive estate plans designed to protect families and create long-term stability across generations. For families building wealth, her planning addresses incapacity protection, planning for minor children, and the efficient transfer of assets. For clients with more complex estates or closely held business interests, she also designs strategies to address estate and gift tax exposure, coordinate planning across diverse asset holdings, and establish governance and succession structures for family-owned businesses.

In addition, Megan maintains a significant focus on special needs and Medicaid planning. She advises families on integrating public benefits preservation with long-term financial security and coordinated care planning. Her work helps protect eligibility for programs such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid while providing supplemental resources that support stability, dignity, and quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

As a parent and as the sibling of a sister with special needs, Megan brings both professional expertise and personal insight to her practice. She understands the legal, financial, and emotional considerations families face when planning for the future. This perspective informs her practical, thoughtful approach to developing plans that protect loved ones, preserve family resources, and provide lasting peace of mind.

Education

Kansas State University (BS in Business Administration – Finance, 2001)

University of Kansas School of Law (JD, Tax Certificate, 2003)

Bar Admissions

Kansas,Missouri,Nebraska

Memberships: Johnson County Bar Association

McDowell Rice Smith & Buchanan PC

605 W 47th Street, Skelly Building, Suite 350, Kansas City, MO 64112

(816) 753-5400

Andrew Zarda

Andrew Zarda represents clients nationwide with respect to real estate, corporate, financing and other business transactions. His clients range from large scale developers and landlords, national banks and business owners to individual borrowers and tenants. Mr. Zarda has extensive experience preparing and negotiating various real estate and transactional documents, including purchase and sale agreements, loan documents, leases, asset purchase agreements, and organizational documents.

Practice Areas

651

Biography

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Megan develops comprehensive estate plans designed to protect families and create long-term stability across generations. For families building wealth, her planning addresses incapacity protection, planning for minor children, and the efficient transfer of assets. For clients with more complex estates or closely held business interests, she also designs strategies to address estate and gift tax exposure, coordinate planning across diverse asset holdings, and establish governance and succession structures for family-owned businesses.

In addition, Megan maintains a significant focus on special needs and Medicaid planning. She advises families on integrating public benefits preservation with long-term financial security and coordinated care planning. Her work helps protect eligibility for programs such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid while providing supplemental resources that support stability, dignity, and quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

As a parent and as the sibling of a sister with special needs, Megan brings both professional expertise and personal insight to her practice. She understands the legal, financial, and emotional considerations families face when planning for the future. This perspective informs her practical, thoughtful approach to developing plans that protect loved ones, preserve family resources, and provide lasting peace of mind.

Education

Kansas State University (BS in Business Administration – Finance, 2001)

University of Kansas School of Law (JD, Tax Certificate, 2003)

Bar Admissions

Kansas,Missouri,Nebraska

Memberships: Johnson County Bar Association

605 W 47th Street, Skelly Building, Suite 350, Kansas City, MO 64112
(816) 753-5400

Arthur K. Shaffer

Arthur K. Shaffer oversees the firm's intellectual property (IP) practice area. For more than 20 years, he has worked with clients on patents, copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets, trade dress, licensing agreements and other intangible assets. He also works with computer law issues including Computer Fraud and Abuse Act (CFAA) and Digital Millennial Copyright Act (DMCA) and litigation of these issues.

Practice Areas

651

Biography

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Megan develops comprehensive estate plans designed to protect families and create long-term stability across generations. For families building wealth, her planning addresses incapacity protection, planning for minor children, and the efficient transfer of assets. For clients with more complex estates or closely held business interests, she also designs strategies to address estate and gift tax exposure, coordinate planning across diverse asset holdings, and establish governance and succession structures for family-owned businesses.

In addition, Megan maintains a significant focus on special needs and Medicaid planning. She advises families on integrating public benefits preservation with long-term financial security and coordinated care planning. Her work helps protect eligibility for programs such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid while providing supplemental resources that support stability, dignity, and quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

As a parent and as the sibling of a sister with special needs, Megan brings both professional expertise and personal insight to her practice. She understands the legal, financial, and emotional considerations families face when planning for the future. This perspective informs her practical, thoughtful approach to developing plans that protect loved ones, preserve family resources, and provide lasting peace of mind.

Education

Kansas State University (BS in Business Administration – Finance, 2001)

University of Kansas School of Law (JD, Tax Certificate, 2003)

Bar Admissions

Kansas,Missouri,Nebraska

Memberships: Johnson County Bar Association

---

605 W 47th Street, Skelly Building, Suite 350, Kansas City, MO 64112
(816) 753-5400

John Mueller III

John Mueller's legal practice and experience spans many areas of civil law. His primary focus has been on representation of businesses of all sizes, both for-profit and nonprofit, across the many practice areas encountered by these clients. He represents individuals in personal and business matters, family law disputes and real estate transactions.

Practice Areas

651

Biography

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Megan develops comprehensive estate plans designed to protect families and create long-term stability across generations. For families building wealth, her planning addresses incapacity protection, planning for minor children, and the efficient transfer of assets. For clients with more complex estates or closely held business interests, she also designs strategies to address estate and gift tax exposure, coordinate planning across diverse asset holdings, and establish governance and succession structures for family-owned businesses.

In addition, Megan maintains a significant focus on special needs and Medicaid planning. She advises families on integrating public benefits preservation with long-term financial security and coordinated care planning. Her work helps protect eligibility for programs such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid while providing supplemental resources that support stability, dignity, and quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

As a parent and as the sibling of a sister with special needs, Megan brings both professional expertise and personal insight to her practice. She understands the legal, financial, and emotional considerations families face when planning for the future. This perspective informs her practical, thoughtful approach to developing plans that protect loved ones, preserve family resources, and provide lasting peace of mind.

Education

Kansas State University (BS in Business Administration – Finance, 2001)

University of Kansas School of Law (JD, Tax Certificate, 2003)

Bar Admissions

Kansas,Missouri,Nebraska

Memberships: Johnson County Bar Association

Ania Wlodek Moncrief

Ania Moncrief is a member of McDowell Rice's Litigation & Dispute Resolution and Banking & Financial Services Groups, specializing in all aspects of civil and commercial litigation.

Ms. Moncrief handles all aspects of litigation, from initial pleading, through discovery (both traditional and electronic discovery), dispositive motions, trial, and judgment. She has successfully briefed dispositive motions in both state and federal courts, including obtaining judgments for her clients and limiting the issues and costs remaining in the litigation.

Practice Areas

651

Biography

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Megan develops comprehensive estate plans designed to protect families and create long-term stability across generations. For families building wealth, her planning addresses incapacity protection, planning for minor children, and the efficient transfer of assets. For clients with more complex estates or closely held business interests, she also designs strategies to address estate and gift tax exposure, coordinate planning across diverse asset holdings, and establish governance and succession structures for family-owned businesses.

In addition, Megan maintains a significant focus on special needs and Medicaid planning. She advises families on integrating public benefits preservation with long-term financial security and coordinated care planning. Her work helps protect eligibility for programs such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid while providing supplemental resources that support stability, dignity, and quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

As a parent and as the sibling of a sister with special needs, Megan brings both professional expertise and personal insight to her practice. She understands the legal, financial, and emotional considerations families face when planning for the future. This perspective informs her practical, thoughtful approach to developing plans that protect loved ones, preserve family resources, and provide lasting peace of mind.

Education

Kansas State University (BS in Business Administration – Finance, 2001)

University of Kansas School of Law (JD, Tax Certificate, 2003)

Bar Admissions

Kansas,Missouri,Nebraska

Memberships: Johnson County Bar Association

605 W 47th Street, Skelly Building, Suite 350, Kansas City, MO 64112

(816) 753-5400

Rebecca D. Martin

Rebecca D. Martin, a seasoned Kansas City attorney with over 30 years of experience, specializes in income tax law, business tax law, and employment tax law. She advocates on behalf of individual taxpayers and businesses, navigating income and employment tax concerns before the IRS, as well as the Kansas and Missouri Departments of Revenue.

Practice Areas

651

Biography

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Megan develops comprehensive estate plans designed to protect families and create long-term stability across generations. For families building wealth, her planning addresses incapacity protection, planning for minor children, and the efficient transfer of assets. For clients with more complex estates or closely held business interests, she also designs strategies to address estate and gift tax exposure, coordinate planning across diverse asset holdings, and establish governance and succession structures for family-owned businesses.

In addition, Megan maintains a significant focus on special needs and Medicaid planning. She advises families on integrating public benefits preservation with long-term financial security and coordinated care planning. Her work helps protect eligibility for programs such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid while providing supplemental resources that support stability, dignity, and quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

As a parent and as the sibling of a sister with special needs, Megan brings both professional expertise and personal insight to her practice. She understands the legal, financial, and emotional considerations families face when planning for the future. This perspective informs her practical, thoughtful approach to developing plans that protect loved ones, preserve family resources, and provide lasting peace of mind.

Education

Kansas State University (BS in Business Administration – Finance, 2001)

University of Kansas School of Law (JD, Tax Certificate, 2003)

Bar Admissions

Kansas,Missouri,Nebraska

Memberships: Johnson County Bar Association

605 W 47th Street, Skelly Building, Suite 350, Kansas City, MO 64112
(816) 753-5400

Michael J. Gorman

Mike Gorman is an experienced commercial trial lawyer, focusing on commercial collections, litigation and representation of banks and other lenders.

Practice Areas

651

Biography

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Megan develops comprehensive estate plans designed to protect families and create long-term stability across generations. For families building wealth, her planning addresses incapacity protection, planning for minor children, and the efficient transfer of assets. For clients with more complex estates or closely held business interests, she also designs strategies to address estate and gift tax exposure, coordinate planning across diverse asset holdings, and establish governance and succession structures for family-owned businesses.

In addition, Megan maintains a significant focus on special needs and Medicaid planning. She advises families on integrating public benefits preservation with long-term financial security and coordinated care planning. Her work helps protect eligibility for programs such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid while providing supplemental resources that support stability, dignity, and quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

As a parent and as the sibling of a sister with special needs, Megan brings both professional expertise and personal insight to her practice. She understands the legal, financial, and emotional considerations families face when planning for the future. This perspective informs her practical, thoughtful approach to developing plans that protect loved ones, preserve family resources, and provide lasting peace of mind.

Education

Kansas State University (BS in Business Administration – Finance, 2001)

University of Kansas School of Law (JD, Tax Certificate, 2003)

Bar Admissions

Kansas,Missouri,Nebraska

Memberships: Johnson County Bar Association

605 W 47th Street, Skelly Building, Suite 350, Kansas City, MO 64112
(816) 753-5400

James F.B. Daniels

Jim Daniels is a trial litigator and practices nationwide in the areas of commercial, dealer, franchise, and wholesale lending; lender liability and trade practices; bankruptcy; and antitrust litigation. He represents manufacturers and franchisors in disputes with their dealers, wholesale lenders in disputes with their borrowers, and businesses of almost every kind in contract, commercial, and trade practices litigation.

Practice Areas

651

Biography

Megan concentrates her practice in comprehensive estate planning, special needs and long-term care planning, and business succession planning for clients throughout Kansas and Missouri. She advises individuals, families, and business owners across a broad range of financial circumstances—from families seeking foundational estate protection to higher-net-worth individuals requiring more advanced wealth preservation, tax mitigation, and succession strategies.

Megan develops comprehensive estate plans designed to protect families and create long-term stability across generations. For families building wealth, her planning addresses incapacity protection, planning for minor children, and the efficient transfer of assets. For clients with more complex estates or closely held business interests, she also designs strategies to address estate and gift tax exposure, coordinate planning across diverse asset holdings, and establish governance and succession structures for family-owned businesses.

In addition, Megan maintains a significant focus on special needs and Medicaid planning. She advises families on integrating public benefits preservation with long-term financial security and coordinated care planning. Her work helps protect eligibility for programs such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid while providing supplemental resources that support stability, dignity, and quality of life for individuals with disabilities.

As a parent and as the sibling of a sister with special needs, Megan brings both professional expertise and personal insight to her practice. She understands the legal, financial, and emotional considerations families face when planning for the future. This perspective informs her practical, thoughtful approach to developing plans that protect loved ones, preserve family resources, and provide lasting peace of mind.

Education

Kansas State University (BS in Business Administration – Finance, 2001)

University of Kansas School of Law (JD, Tax Certificate, 2003)

Bar Admissions

Kansas,Missouri,Nebraska

Memberships: Johnson County Bar Association

---

605 W 47th Street, Skelly Building, Suite 350, Kansas City, MO 64112

(816) 753-5400